Short Bio

Founder and CEO of Jungle Scout, Greg is a successful entrepreneur, angel investor, experienced Amazon seller and an influential educator. He loves big data, good coffee and travelling the world as a digital nomad whilst leading a remote team!

Long Bio

Greg is the founder and CEO of Jungle Scout, a suite of tools that empowers freedom builders.

As a successful entrepreneur, Greg leads a team of 35+ employees. He is also an influential educator, offering free and inspirational content that has helped thousands of people build their own businesses and freedom. This educational content has also helped to raise tens of thousands of dollars for charity.

He loves big data, technology, ecommerce, good coffee and currently travels the world as a nomad with his wife, Elizabeth.

Currently, he is working on ground breaking projects that take Amazon seller software to the next level, inspiring other freedom builders and collaborating with entrepreneurs on exciting podcasts!
